

.....Reminiscing the Past.....

*In the middle of the night
When everyone seems to sleep tight
I'm staring at my window
Hoping to see even just your shadow*

*Reminiscing our past
Thinking of the memories thought it would last*

*Deep inside I feel much pain
Seems like I'm gonna be insane*

*I thought you're my reality
But now it seems you're my fantasy
Im trying to ignore this feeling
But when you stare at me, feels like I'm melting*

*When will this feeling ends?
Especially now that we became good friends
I can't stop thinking the way you smile
I just can't forget it even just for awhile*

Now that our relationship was over

Hope I can move on sooner

Now I know that we can never be together

But in my heart you continue to linger... 😊

The Agony of Letting Go 🚗

*We both decided to broke up
I endure the pain and try to stop my tears to drop
It hurts even more looking at your pouting face
Then for the last time you wrapped me with your sweet embrace*

*The feeling of sadness,
The sense of loneliness,
Reminiscing our sweet kisses
Broke my heart into pieces.*

*Where ever I go, whatever I do
All the things around, just reminds me of you
My tears constantly fall
And I can't help it, for now I care nothing at all.*

*I think of you every single minute
Hoping that you still love even just a bit
Here I am now, missing you a lot
Wondering if I can open your heart and still can find my slot.*

*I wish I never let you go
I find it hard to let this feelings flow
Now I don't know where to go
Without you, seems this world spins so slow.*

The Sweetest feeling of Moving on..

*Forget the face
Memories will be erase
Forget the name
For time heals the pain*

*Wipe the tears
'coz now I have no moiré fears
Delete the sadness
I want to leave the emptiness*

*No more sleepless nights
Because now I'm totally alright
From now on I'm out of the blue
Glad that I'm completely over you..*

Pain In My Heart

"People come and go"..... Indeed true. As we all know, all people in this world are only passers by in our life. So we must stick to those people who are very special to us and do worthy things with them out of our precious time. For we don't know if how long these people will stay with us, maybe some stay for a lifetime and maybe few are only for a while.

In my life, there are certain people who mean a lot to me. They are the ones who make my day brighter, lighten up my burdens, ease my heavy heart and above all love and accept me as I am. They are the ones who gave me many reasons to smile. Way back somewhere from my past, I have this one particular guy in mind who was very close to my heart. He was my friend, my boyfriend, my love, my inspiration, my treasure, my life.....my everything. He is intelligent wise and responsible. Above all men, he was the one who stood up high, he certainly caught my attention and stole my heart. I felt so lucky having him; with no doubts I accepted and loved him. I took care of him. And with open arms and patient heart I embrace his whole self in spite of our differences, and happily, on the other hand, he did the same way for me. We shared many happy memories together and enjoyed each other's company. Whenever I'm down I can always count on him. He never failed to help me. He is a guy with a good heart. Everything was great, everything was fine, and everything was perfect.

But then just like other normal relationship there came to a point that we face a lot of trials. There are lots of arguments, miss understanding and jealousy. Innumerable fights which lasted a week or more. That's bad I know! Until one day I woke up and everything was changed from bad to worst!!! Because now he's really gone, he left; he's out of my life. I broke down into tears then. I can't believe it. Is this for real? I thought I can still fix the things between us. I did try to establish our relationship. How could he...he didn't gave me a second chance. That was not I've expected, after all the things that we've been through, by just a single mistake from me everything has alter in a snap. This is very painful. From the very start, I did value him, our relationship and his love. But now it was over and everything was too late. My one great love is now my painful heartache.

Now huge changes had happen, lonely mornings and cold evenings are with me. Losing him was very hard for me, yet I have to continue living my life. It just proves that people come and go. We can't ask them to leave and worst we can't ask them to stay. And all I can do now is to wake up to reality and accept everything. I just can't let him go, it's not that easy though. His name had carve in my heart, he left a precious mark in me, I can't find someone like him, I can't replace him, he's my one great love.

And where ever I go, whatever I do, there will always be HIM..... There will always be A Pain In My Heart.
